

PERUNA EDITORIAL NO. 2.

Dr. Hartman has claimed for many years that Peruna is an EXCELLENT CATARRH REMEDY. Some of the doctor's critics have disputed the doctor's claim as to the efficacy of Peruna.

Since the ingredients of Peruna are no longer a secret, what do the medical authorities say concerning the remedies of which Peruna is composed?

Take, for instance, the ingredient HYDRASTIS CANADENSIS, OR GOLDEN SEAL. The United States Dispensatory says of this herbal remedy, "It is largely employed in the treatment of depraved mucous membranes, chronic rhinitis (nasal catarrh), atonic dyspepsia (catarrh of the stomach), chronic intestinal catarrh, catarrhal jaundice (catarrh of the liver), and in diseased mucous membranes of the pelvic organs. It is also recommended for the treatment of various forms of diseases peculiar to women."

Another ingredient of Peruna, CORYDALIS FORMOSA, is classed in the United States Dispensatory as a tonic.

CEDRON SEEDS is another ingredient of Peruna, an excellent drug that has been very largely overlooked by the medical profession for the past fifty years. THE SEEDS ARE TO BE FOUND IN VERY FEW DRUG STORES. The United States Dispensatory says of the action of cedron that it is used as a bitter tonic and in the treatment of dysentery, and in intermittent diseases as a SUBSTITUTE FOR QUININE.

OIL OF COPAIBA, another ingredient of Peruna, is classed by the United States Dispensatory as a mild stimulant and diuretic. It acts on the stomach and intestinal tract. It acts as a stimulant on the genito-urinary membranes.

Our Peruna Tablet Is Peruna With Fluid Removed.

Useful in chronic cystitis, chronic dysentery and diarrhea, and some chronic diseases of the liver and kidneys.

These opinions as to the ingredients of Peruna are held by all writers on the subject, including Bartholow and Souther.

OF HYDRASTIS, BARTHOLOW SAYS it is applicable to stomatitis (catarrh of the mucous surfaces of the mouth), follicular pharyngitis (catarrh of the pharynx), chronic coryza (catarrh of the head). This writer classifies Hydrastis as a stomachic tonic, useful in atonic dyspepsia (chronic gastric catarrh), catarrh of the duodenum, catarrh of the gall duct, catarrh of the intestines, catarrh of the kidneys (chronic Bright's disease), catarrh of the bladder, and catarrh of other pelvic organs.

BARTHOLOW REGARDS COPAIBA as an excellent remedy for chronic catarrh of the bladder, chronic bronchitis (catarrh of the bronchial tubes).

BARTHOLOW STATES THAT CUBER, an ingredient of Peruna, promotes the appetite and digestion, increases the circulation of the blood. Useful in chronic nasal catarrh, follicular pharyngitis (catarrh of the pharynx), increasing the tonicity of the mucous membranes of the throat. It also relieves hoarseness. Useful in atonic dyspepsia (catarrh of the stomach), and in chronic catarrh of the colon and rectum, catarrh of the bladder, prostaticorrhea, and chronic bronchial affections.

MILLSAUGH, MEDICINAL PLANTS, one of the most authoritative works on medicinal herbs in the English language, in commenting upon COLLINSIA CANADENSIS, says that it acts on the pneumogastric and vaso-motor nerves. It increases the secretions of the mucous membranes in general. In the mountains of Virginia, Kentucky, Tennessee and Carolina, collinsia canadensis is considered a panacea for many disorders, including headache, colic, cramp, dropsy and indigestion. DR. SCUDDER regards it highly as a remedy in chronic diseases of the lungs, heart disease and asthma.

These citations ought to be sufficient to show to any candid mind that Peruna is a catarrh remedy. Surely, such herbal remedies, that command the enthusiastic confidence of the highest authorities obtainable, brought together in proper combination, ought to make a catarrh remedy of the highest efficacy.

This is our claim, and we are able to substantiate this claim by ample quotations from the HIGHEST MEDICAL AUTHORITIES IN THE WORLD.

Farm Topics.

THE POULTRY YARD.

Set the coops in the shade of a tree. Keep hogs and ducklings in separate inclosures.

Watch the cat which you see watching the chicks.

If the duck feathers are ripe, pick them. They are always salable.

GRINDING FEED FOR HORSES.

Opinions differ concerning the advantages of grinding grain as feed for horses. For those out of the stable during the day and worked hard, it is quite generally believed that all grains, with the possible exception of oats, should be ground, and for those at extremely hard work the ground grain should be mixed with chaffed hay. For idle horses, oats or grain should not be ground, nor should hay or straw be chaffed. When animals have time to masticate their food thoroughly, grinding is not necessary. When this is not the case, grinding takes the place of mastication to some extent and increases the assimilation of their food.—Epitomist.

BREED BETTER COWS.

We have got to breed better cows; we cannot afford to buy pure-bred stock; we must select fifty per cent. to be mothers; the average age of usefulness in New England is five years. If I buy for $75 and sell for $25 I lose $50. Four cents a pound must be deducted from her butter to make up for the depreciation in her value, and has got to be considered. If she lives four years she produces four calves, probably two males and two heifers. So we need every other heifer or to raise the heifer calf of every other cow, and must improve by selecting the best of them. With these as a basis you can graft on your herd the improved qualities you want by using a pure-bred sire.—Professor C. L. Beach, in the American Cultivator.

FATTENING TURKEYS.

An experiment was made as to the gains by turkeys confined in pens as compared with those that ran at large. Those in pens were given all they could eat clean of a mixture of wheat, oats, and barley 2:1:1. In the morning the grain was fed chopped and wet with milk, but in the evening it was fed whole. It was noted that the turkeys were apparently more fond of oats than of the other grains, so toward the end of the fattening period the proportion of this grain was increased. A little grain was fed the turkeys which were not confined in addition to the food which they could gather. The five turkeys in pens weighed on an average 6.55 pounds each at the beginning of the test. During the forty-two days of the feeding period the average gain was 4.05 pounds, six pounds of grain being eaten per pound of gain. The turkeys running at large also weighed at beginning of the test 6.55 pounds each and made an average gain of 1.85 pounds. In both cases the greatest gains were made during the first three weeks of the period. It is stated that the penned turkeys when dressed shrank five per cent. less than those running at large and that they were plumper and were in every way more inviting in appearance.—Manitoba Experiment Station Bulletin.

WOMEN IN POULTRY WORK.

It is right and proper that women should have access to the poultry courses, as we venture to say that if an accurate census be taken it will be found that there are many more women than men engaged in the raising of poultry. In the case of the farmers the business is about almost entirely in the hands of the woman. This is right, too. For woman is by nature the better suited for carrying on the business. She has the patient application and constant daily application to detail, the lack of which wrecks many a poultry venture, where made by men. When it comes to the raising of little chicks, she is supreme in her maternal ministrations and will make a man turn green with envy at the number she will raise strong and healthy, to vigorous maturity. In East Tennessee she is the poultry raiser. The fact that the business is in the hands of women, is the salvation of the industry, no help from stock, no facilities and little time, they have made the poultry industry in Tennessee the greatest in the South. Another point in their favor, they stand for improvement and advance; while the men stick stubbornly to antiquated methods, the women stand for progress, for improved breeds, for poultry shows, for general betterment along improved and modern lines. Usually, too, when a poultry paper is taken by the farmer it's the good wife who reads it and profits thereby. I never had such success in raising young chicks the year I was away from home and my wife did the raising. All hail to woman, the sovereign of the poultry world, as of many others.—T. L. B. in Ladies' Home Journal.

HOW TO KNOW PURE PAINT.

A Way in Which It May be Identified Before Using.

After a building has been painted long enough for a weather test, it is easy to tell if the paint used was made of pure White Lead or not. But such belated knowledge comes like looking the barn after the colt is stolen.

What one wants is a test that will tell the quality of the paint before it and the labor of putting it on are paid for.

Nature has provided a way in which genuine White Lead may be positively distinguished from adulterated or fake White Lead before you spend a cent on your painting.

Pure White Lead is made from metallic lead, and, under intense heat, such as is produced by a blow-pipe, pure White Lead will resolve itself back into metallic lead. If, however, it is not genuine White Lead, or if it contains the slightest trace of adulteration, the change will not take place. Therefore the "blow-pipe" test is an absolute and final one.

The National Lead Company are urging every one interested in painting to make this test of paint before using it, and they guarantee that the pure White Lead sold under their "Dutch Boy Painter" trade-mark will always prove absolutely pure under the "blow-pipe" or any other test. To make it easy for you to perform the experiment they will send you free upon request a blow-pipe and everything necessary for you to make the test, together with a valuable booklet on paint. ### Belt Made of 225 Steer Hides.

Washington State boasts the largest leather belt ever made in the world. The hides of a herd of 225 steers were required to turnish the material from which the big endless belt was built. Only the centres of the hides were used, and each of these was stretched for weeks to insure perfectly even strength in all parts of the proposed belt. The belt is 114 feet long 8 feet wide and three ply thick. The weight of the belt is something more than 2,500 pounds.

Not a peg, rivet or fastening of any kind was used to weld the pieces of hide together. The best quality of cement was used and the places where the hides overlap welded by the weight of a hydraulic press bearing 250 pounds pressure to the square foot. The big belt has just been installed in the new Dempster saw-mill at Tacoma, Wash.—Seattle Post-Intelligencer.

More Marriages in England.

Many interesting details as to the marriages which took place in England and Wales during 1906 are given in the Registrar-General's detailed report for that year. There were more of them than in the previous year, but the increase was not so conspicuous in the case of widowers, while there was no increase at all in that of widows. As already recorded, the birth rate was abnormally low, while the death rate was higher for the year.

The marriage rate shows an increase of 0.3 over 1905, but was 0.1 below the average for the ten years 1896-1905.

The birth rate was the lowest ever recorded, being 0.1 less than in 1905 and 1.6 lower than the decennial average.—London Chronicle.

REVERSED.

MUSIC STUDENTS Should Have Steady Nerves.

The nervous system of the musician is often very sensitive, and any habit like coffee drinking may so upset the nerves as to make regular and necessary daily practice next to impossible.

"I practice from seven to eight hours a day and study Harmony two hours," writes a Mich. music student. "Last September I was so nervous I could only practice a few minutes at a time and mother said I would have to drop my music for a year."

"This was terribly discouraging, as I couldn't bear the thought of losing a whole year of study. Becoming convinced that my nervousness was caused largely by coffee, and seeing Postum so highly spoken of, I decided I would test it for a while."

"Mother followed the directions carefully and I thought I had never tasted such a delicious drink. We drank Postum every morning instead of coffee, and by November I felt more like myself than for years, and was ready to resume my music."

"I now practice as usual, do not studying and when my day's work is finished I am not any more nervous than when I began."

"I cannot too highly recommend Postum to musicians who practice half a day. My father is a musician and recommends Postum to his patients. Words cannot express my appreciation for this most valuable health beverage, and experience has proven its superiority over all others."—There's a Reason.
